

Resources for Supporting Instruction

Georgia Public Broadcasting has resources to support any learning model for back to school and throughout the school year. These resources as well as links to other helpful resources can be found on their website.

Back-to-School Resources To Support Any Learning Model

Take a look at common challenges for CLASS dimensions of Instructional Support and tips for how to address those challenges. These small changes could help to make a difference in Instructional Support.

Raise CLASS Instructional Support Scores with These Small Changes

How to help teachers improve their interactions within the Instructional Support domain is one of the most common inquiries. Small, incremental improvements in teacher practices have been shown to result in measurable increases in child learning outcomes.

Working Together Toward Change: Instructional Support

When you set and share the intention to improve student learning, teachers will suddenly feel pressure to get results. To help alleviate some pressure, the drive to improve must be balanced by caring for teachers.

Teacher Support: Key to Improved Student Learning

To do their best work every day; to educate and inspire students, teachers desperately need the support of competent, compassionate leaders.

5 Strategies for Supporting Teachers To Do Their Best Work