

Links to Literacy

As preschoolers explore their world with curiosity and delight, they are preparing for a future filled with the need to learn. With the right tools, you can help children enter school ready to learn.

Links to Literacy is aligned with Head Start, National and State School Readiness Performance and Outcome Standards and components of the National Reading Panel's Teaching Children to Read program. It is research based, comprehensive and field tested and designed to provide a strong foundation of early literacy and language development for 3-5 year olds and promote school readiness skills.

Links to Literacy addresses all areas of development, or domains, for preschool children:

- Language development
- Literacy
- Cognitive development (math, science, creative arts)
- Social and emotional development
- Approaches to learning
- Physical and health development

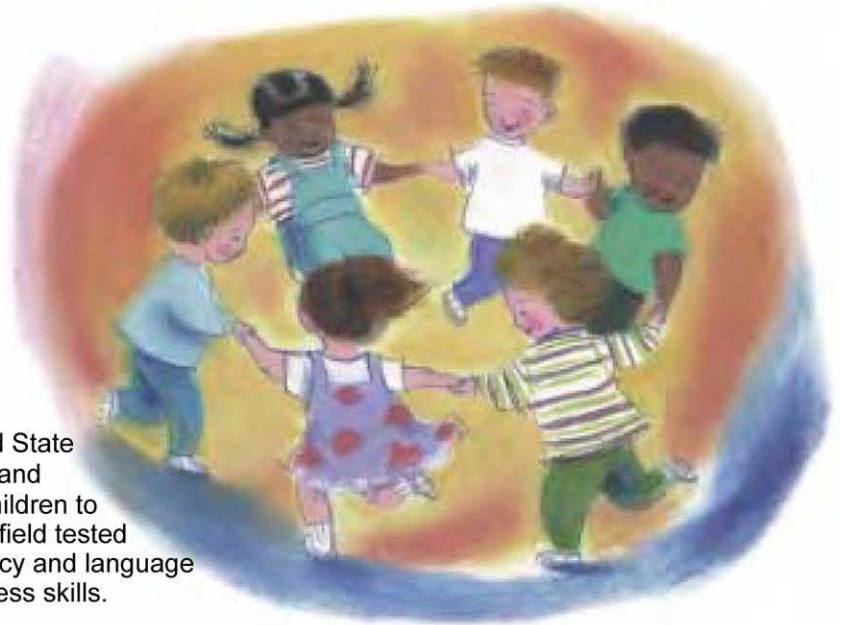

Links to Literacy incorporates the building blocks of early literacy:

- Language development
- Book knowledge and appreciation
- Phonological awareness
- Alphabet recognition
- Print awareness
- Emergent writing

Math, Science & Social Studies:

- Sorting and classifying
- Ordering and sorting
- Measuring
- Identifying and using shapes

Plus additional activities included for social studies, character development, nutrition, health and safety!

Links to Literacy features:

- Teacher Manual, and additional supplement manuals for Alphabet Activities, Gender Differences, and Math, Science, and Social Studies
- Full year of activities built around 20 popular Pre-K themes
- Instructional guide for small and large group activities
- Sample and blank lesson plans with suggested scope and sequence
- Suggested book lists to accompany the themes as well as in book sets for each theme (available separately and listed on reverse page)
- Word Wall (words and pictures) black line masters
- Field trip ideas and accompanying activities
- Parent involvement: includes activities and a letter to send home for each theme.

Links to Literacy is dedicated to helping each child achieve school readiness ... and more. The curriculum nurtures the essential elements of lifelong learning: curiosity, initiative, persistence, reasoning and problem solving.

Links to Literacy provides strategies for setup of the classroom environment and activities with Gender Differences in mind. A Gender Difference booklet is included with the curriculum set.
