

Supporting Social Emotional Skills while Social Distancing

Young children have felt the effects of the changes that have occurred during the pandemic. Here's a resource with strategies to build children's social skills to help them cope with change. #GaSEEDSforSUCCESS

11 Simple Things You Can Do To Support Young Children's Social-Emotional Skills

Learning centers play an important role in promoting social skills in young children. Here is a guide to creating socially distanced learning centers. #GaSEEDSforSUCCESS

Why Learning Centers Are an Important Part of Early Childhood Education

Home to school collaboration is essential to building inclusive learning environments for young children. This article provides strategies to help create and maintain successful partnerships between families and providers. #GaSEEDSforSUCCESS

Creating an Inclusive Home and School Community

Developing social skills in children sets a foundation for building positive relationships. Continue to promote social skills at home and in the classroom by following these suggestions. #GaSEEDSforSUCCESS

Promoting Social Skills in the Time of Social Distancing

Covid-19 has changed daily life for all of us. Supporting the growth and development of children is as important as ever. Use this resource to provide families with ways to support the development of their children during the pandemic. #GaSEEDSforSUCCESS

Covid-19 Family Resources